[redacted] stated that in October, 1978, he was approached by [redacted] who claimed he had a client with $1 million in bearer notes upon which [redacted] and his client wished [redacted] to collect. [redacted] identified his client as [redacted] stated that he later learned that [redacted] client also went by other names such as BURNETT, FENTON, and SOLNET.

[redacted] advised that upon meeting Mr. BURNETT, BURNETT requested that [redacted] fly to St. Vincent, West Indies, in order to meet an attorney named [redacted] an individual BURNETT claimed represented his, BURNETT's off shore bank.

[redacted] advised that he travelled to St. Vincents and had several discussions with [redacted] in early November, 1978. [redacted] stated that he and [redacted] discussed various aspects of the law suit.

[redacted] advised that things did not go well in St. Vincents. He stated that BURNETT never arrived and there was a hotel bill that was never paid. Furthermore, [redacted] gave [redacted] an expense check for $1,979.80 which bounced. [redacted] presented the interviewing agents with a xeroxed copy of the check in question.

[redacted] stated that upon returning from St. Vincents on November 20, 1978, he contacted the DA's office in Manhattan to determine if Financial Services Bank Ltd., the off shore entity was in fact legitimate. [redacted] presented the interviewing agents with a copy of the transcript of a taped telephone conversation between himself and an individual named [redacted] of the DA's office in Manhattan.

[ ] stated that he next heard about the bearer bond transaction in May, 1979, when he was contacted by [ ] told him that BURNETT was around again and was interested in pursuing the civil suit again. [ ] stated that [ ] gave him $5,000 and promised to deliver more.

[ ] stated that in August, 1979, he was contacted by BURNETT and a meeting was arranged at LaGuardia Airport. [ ] stated that [ ] arrived late to this meeting and BURNETT had still not arrived. [ ] stated that [ ] appeared to be "shaken" over something and at one point told [ ] that BURNETT was in trouble and needed to collect rapidly on the Nassau bonds.

[ ] advised that eventually BURNETT arrived at the meeting and brought with him as a driver or body guard a burly looking fellow who [ ] stated looked like a Secret Service man. [ ] stated that at the LaGuardia meeting a strange thing occurred. BURNETT admitted to [ ] that he (BURNETT) had a criminal record.

[ ] stated that during the LaGuardia meeting he realized that something was wrong and requested that BURNETT meet him in Washington, D.C. [ ] advised that he had some attorney friends there who he wanted to look BURNETT over. BURNETT never showed in Washington, D.C. the following week.

[ ] advised that the most significant events occurred over the past week which he now wished to formally report to the FBI. These events occurred as follows:

[ ] stated that on Monday morning, August 27, 1979, while at [ ] received a telephone call from [ ] [ ] told [ ] that he wished to meet and talk. Approximately 15 or 20 minutes later, an individual identifying himself as [ ] called to say Mr. BURNETT would be calling later on. [ ] stated that he, [ ] told [ ] that he, [ ] had been contacted by the Justice Department regarding financial

b7D

[ ] advised that on Monday evening, [ ] came to the Holiday Inn to ask [ ] to represent him. [ ] advised that [ ] told him some things that were extremely incriminating to both [ ] and BURNETT. [ ] then advised the interviewing agents that since the information incriminating to [ ] was told to him by [ ] in an Attorney client situation, he, [ ] would not be able to reveal this information. However, [ ] stated that [ ] told him with regards to BURNETT that he, BURNETT, was planning to jump bail. Furthermore, [ ] said that he had seen BURNETT with a large sum of money and that BURNETT intended to use his (BURNETT's) off shore bank to launder notes. [ ] stated unequivocally that he did not know the Nassau bonds were stolen until this meeting with [ ]

[ ] advised that on Tuesday morning, August 28, 1979, he received a call from BURNETT and a luncheon meeting was arranged. Later that afternoon BURNETT and his driver picked [ ] up at the Holiday Inn in Bridgeport, Connecticut and drove him to an Italian Restaurant far on the outskirts of town. [ ] stated that he, [ ], was frightened. [ ] advised that over lunch BURNETT made some very strange statements. BURNETT first asked [ ] what the story was with the Feds. [ ] then told BURNETT that his friends in the United States Attorneys (USA's) Office had told him of an investigation. [ ] stated that he did this only to determine BURNETT's intentions and whether or not BURNETT's intentions were legal. [ ] stated that he had never, in fact, spoken to anyone in the USA's office.

[ ] advised that BURNETT then told him that he (BURNETT) was indebted to [ ] for working out the "Iranian Connection". [ ] stated that he did not know what BURNETT meant by this but assumed that [ ] had, in some way, thought up a scheme to launder Iranian paper. [ ] stated that at this point he wanted to leave because he was so frightened. However, [ ] was seated at the bar and, therefore, [ ] felt he must "play along" with BURNETT.

[ ] stated that another strange thing that BURNETT said was that he, BURNETT, was a thief. Furthermore, BURNETT asked him how the scheme was going to work. Also, BURNETT asked [ ] if he, [ ] wanted to handle future transactions. [ ] told BURNETT that they would talk about it some time in the future. [ ] advised that at that point he was extremely frightened and would say anything to get away from BURNETT and his driver.

Some other "strange" comments [ ] recalls BURNETT having made are as follows:

BURNETT stated that he wanted to meet with [ ] [ ] look him straight in the eye, tell him that he, BURNETT, is a thief; that the notes are stolen, and that he, [ ] must forget that he, BURNETT, is alive.

BURNETT stated that he wished to know from [ ] what kind of witness he needed. [ ] stated that he told BURNETT that a bank officer of Financial Services Bank Ltd. was needed. BURNETT told [ ] he had a taxi cab driver who could be a witness.

BURNETT also asked [ ] what the steps were to keep this process clean. [ ] advised that he was so frightened that he told BURNETT that there was a list of 25 steps that needed to be covered in [ ] file in St. Vincents. [ ] advised that this, in fact, was not true.

[ ] stated that at the end of the luncheon he and BURNETT returned to the car. BURNETT's driver was already in the car. On the way back to the Holiday Inn [ ] became more involved with the conversation than he had been earlier.

[ ] noted that [ ] seemed to have an extensive interest in the Freedom of Information Act.

NY 29-15128

b7C

Furthermore, [ ] stated that he had a friend who used to work for [ ]

[ ] advised that on Tuesday evening, August 28, 1979, he received a telephone call from [ ] [ ] told him that he, [ ] was meeting with BURNETT on Wednesday, at 12:00 noon. [ ] also said he was going to pick up [ ] fee from BURNETT. [ ] then told [ ] to pick up the money from BURNETT but not to leave New York with the money. [ ] stated that he told [ ] he, [ ] would come to [ ] [ ] stated that for some reason BURNETT wanted [ ] to take the money to St. Vincent and then wire the money up to [ ] from St. Vincent.

[ ] advised that on Wednesday at exactly 1:30 pm (give or take five minutes) he received a telephone call from [ ] During this conversation [ ] told [ ] that he, [ ] was with BURNETT, that he, [ ] had seen the money, but BURNETT would not give it to him unless he, [ ] took it to St. Vincent. [ ] advised that he told [ ] to "forget it" and then said good-bye.

[ ] advised that on Wednesday evening he called [ ] to find out what had occurred. During that telephone conversation [ ] told [ ] that he, [ ] had been approached by Treasury Agents in BURNETT's room at the Westbury Hotel. [ ] further stated that BURNETT was a Treasury Agent and that [ ] had served him, [ ] with a subpoena.

SA [ ] then asked [ ] if he had ever heard of any of the following names:

NY 29-15128

[ ] stated that all except [ ] were totally unfamiliar to him. [ ] stated that had heard the name [ ] mentioned to him by BURNETT during his Tuesday luncheon with BURNETT in Connecticut. [ ] stated that that was the first and only time he had ever heard of that name.

b6

[ ] further advised that at the luncheon in Connecticut and on other occasions, it had been suggested to him by BURNETT and [ ] that the Attorney General of St. Vincents was on their payroll. [ ] could not recall the Attorney General's name but stated that BURNETT had mentioned bribing the Attorney General with boats and women. [ ] stated that he recalled once meeting the Attorney General's wife while in St. Vincents.

At the conclusion of the interview [ ] was served by SA [ ] with a Federal Grand Jury subpoena. [ ] asked SA [ ] if he was appearing as a witness or target of the investigation. SA [ ] advised [ ] that he should discuss that matter with Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) [ ] Southern District of New York (SDNY). In addition, [ ] furnished SA [ ] with an original letter, dated June 20, 1979, on Financial Services Bank Ltd. stationery, signed [ ] SA [ ] advised [ ] that the FBI wanted the letter for fingerprint analysis. [ ] agreed.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date of transcription 9/13/79

[redacted] Assistant United States Attorney, Federal District of Vermont, Burlington, Vermont, advised that he has received long distance telephone calls from Attorney [redacted] on August 29, 1979, and August 30, 1979. [redacted] stated he did not initiate the telephone calls on August 29, 1979, and that the telephone calls were a complete surprise to him.

[redacted] stated that he immediately dictated memos concerning contents of the telephone conversations he had with Attorney [redacted] on August 29, 1979 and August 30, 1979, and the memos read as follows:

ATTN OF:

SUBJECT:

- Evening of 8/29/79

TO: FILE

At approximately 9:15 P.M. on August 29, I received a person-to-person telephone call at home from a person identifying himself as, and whose voice I recognized as that of, [redacted] said that he was calling because he wanted to know whether we had an agent available tomorrow since he thought he had knowledge of a federal crime. I asked him what type of agent and he indicated F.B.I.

b6

[redacted] then proceeded to tell me what this was in reference to. He stated that last November he was contacted in connection with a small "off-shore" bank which had one million dollars in bearer paper which Chemical Bank in New York had failed to honor. He indicated that it was legitimate bearer paper, that [redacted] "had to realize that it was stolen" but, as [redacted] generally phrased it, "one can't tell by looking at a dollar bill where it has been or whether it has been stolen previously." [redacted] said that he went to St. Vincent in the Caribbean, set his fee to represent the bank and stayed there five days. He stated that the fee was not paid so he came back. He told me that this all took place last November, that nothing happened for a while afterward and that a short time ago the people reappeared. He stated that the person who he referred to as "the mastermind," told him that he would give him [redacted] $5,000 to cover expenses if he would undertake representing the bank in connection with the Chemical's dishonoring of the paper. [redacted] indicated that he was willing to, but they would have to meet the retainer requirement before he would actually represent them.

[redacted] indicated that this week he was down in Connecticut; Bridgeport specifically, and was visited by the man "with a number of different names." [redacted] later in the conversation identified this person as the Michael Burnet or Paul Burnet etc.

[redacted] stated to me that while he was in Bridgeport this week an individual who had acted as a go between from Burnet to [redacted] in the past on this thing, [redacted] had come to see him and asked if he would still represent the bank. [redacted] indicated that "the fellow who used all the strange names" ([redacted] words) was under indictment in Florida but would be there to see [redacted] about representing the bank. The individual did call [redacted] and appeared with a driver, who [redacted] described as looking like a "hood," and met with him at the Holiday Inn on August 29th. They went out to lunch at a relatively non-descript place, and discussed things such as "Dare To Be Great" and [redacted]. They got into a discussion of these things because the individual is (was) from Orlando and [redacted] used to represent [redacted] who apparently was from that area also.

The individual "of many names." [redacted] (last name) at that point, specifically told [redacted] that the bonds were stolen and that he would turn over the fee to [redacted] for him to represent the bank down in St. Vincent and then vanish to a location unknown. [redacted] told the individual that he was not willing to do this. [redacted] told me, "As you know, I don't practice law that way." [redacted] told him that this activity might well be in violation of the RICO statute and the individual knew all about the RICO statute, was conversant in RICO, and discussed it with [redacted]. [redacted] told the person that he was well acquainted with the U.S. Attorney's Office in Vermont and, if not retained by the individual as attorney, he would feel quite likely compelled to bring this matter to our attention or to the attention of other authorities since there was no attorney-client relationship. [redacted] told the individual that what the man was telling him was putting him in a vulnerable position since Burnet specifically told him that the securities were stolen and [redacted] would feel compelled to bring this information to the attention of the authorities since he had not been retained.

The person also told [redacted] that he wanted to know how to pass the stolen securities. [redacted] told him that there were 25 steps which the lawyer down in St. Vincent knew all about (or something to that effect). [redacted] told me at this point that Burnet had not had any contact with the lawyer down in St. Vincent or he would know that this last statement was complete baloney because [redacted] was now making all this up. [redacted] stated that they parted company with the person saying that he would come up with the fee for [redacted] to represent the bank in connection with the securities. Burnet told [redacted] that he would have the fee to [redacted] by 1:30 on August 29th. [redacted] stated that he subsequently received a call at 1:30 P.M. on August 29 from [redacted] stated, as he did a number of times during the conversation, that [redacted] appeared to him to be an honest entrepreneur. He said that [redacted] told him that he had seen the money, i.e., the fee, and was going to St. Vincent to send it back to [redacted]

[redacted] indicated that there was no attorney-client relationship and therefore he felt compelled to tell us about these occurrences since what he had learned might be evidence of a federal crime. I told him that I thought that even if there was an attorney-client relationship here that what he was talking about was an ongoing crime and therefore he had a duty to tell us anyway. [redacted] disagreed with my analysis based on the facts, but we agreed that under the facts he had stated this need not be resolved, since these people had not been his clients and he had made that clear to them as well as that he would feel obligated to tell authorities these facts. [redacted] stated that in the conversation down in Connecticut he had led the individual along because he wanted to see what the person had to say.

[redacted] indicated that he thought there were four possibilities to explain what was going on. The first was that someone was trying to set him up. The second was that someone was trying to set up [redacted]. The third was that someone was pulling some kind of con game, and the fourth possibility was that someone was trying to set up the attorney general of St. Vincent. [redacted] stated that Burnet had told him that he had sent a yacht down to St. Vincent for that attorney general with girls on it but [redacted] thought this was all very strange and had no idea whether this was true and accurate.

[ ] told me that the attorney he had been dealing with in Connecticut was named [ ] (phonetic) and is associated with him in a case down there. He indicated that he was in the middle of discussing the strange situation with [ ] who agreed that something very strange was going on, when he received the telephone call from [ ] at 1:30 P.M. on August 29th, saying that the money was available. [ ] indicated that at this point he felt he should go to the "Bureau" or otherwise make it known to authorities and had thought about going to the Bureau down in Connecticut. He decided, however, to bring it to our attention since he knew us and did not know who he would be dealing with down in Connecticut. He did not at any time indicate why he called me specifically as opposed to [ ] for example, but did say he was calling at that hour because he had just gotten in from Connecticut.

[ ] told me that the bank in St. Vincent was Financial Services Bank Ltd. and that he had seen a letter while he was in St. Vincent from Chemical Bank specifically stating that they had dishonored the bearer securities. The securities were Nassau County New York tax anticipation notes. [ ] saw copies of some of the notes, or a sample of them, when he was down in St. Vincent last November. He indicated that it was a complete guess by him but he would guess that the notes were about one year old when he saw them.

I asked [ ] even given what he stated was his limited factual knowledge, whether he had any idea why Chemical Bank had not reported to the F.B.I. the fact that one million dollars in stolen bearer securities had been brought to them in an attempt to collect on them. [ ] stated that he had no idea and that it was entirely possible in fact that Chemical Bank had notified the F.B.I.

[ ] stated to me at this point that he was going to call and ask him what was going on. He said he had no idea what was going on and wanted to try and ascertain it and intended to call [redacted] with that purpose in mind. I asked him whether [redacted] was down in St. Vincent and he stated "no," he expected that [redacted] was at his residence in New Jersey.

[redacted] subsequently called me back a very few minutes later and stated that he had just spoken with [redacted] and that [redacted] was hysterical. [redacted] stated that [redacted] claimed to have been subpoenaed by the person who had been using all the funny names to appear before a grand jury in "New York" next week (not specified whether state or federal, or which district if federal, or the date). The person who subpoenaed him was the person of many names who now claimed to be a Bureau agent.

[redacted] in response to questions from me, went on to say that [redacted] is a real estate agent and deals in insurance in St. Vincent. [redacted] indicated that the person has connections there because he has seen him deal with those people while he was down there. [redacted] stated that [redacted] has a habit of passing some bad checks, but that a lot of his past clients have and that does not necessarily mean that he is dishonest. I have some recollection of [redacted] saying something about receiving money for expenses at some point and that part of the payment was in the form of a bad check, but he may well have been relating the situation with other clients.

[redacted] stated that the person with many names has used names like Michael Burnet, Paul Burnet, Michael Paul and now was using the name Myron Sonnett or something like that. [redacted] was not sure. [redacted] indicated that [redacted] is from New Jersey, appears to be the [redacted] for this individual and as far as [redacted] knew, was honest.

[redacted] also told me about someone, I think that it was [redacted] but I could be very mistaken, has a relative with a strange name like [redacted] or something like that. His connection to this matter was unclear to me, if there was any connection. I asked [redacted] where Burnet, or whatever his name was, resided and [redacted] told me that he had been told by Burnet that he resided at or stayed (I'm not sure which he said) at the [redacted] in New York.

File memo dated August 30, 1979

b6
b7C

[ ] stated that he had been given a card with Sonnett's name on it which he thinks he threw away because it had no significance to him.

[ ] stated that the attorney in St. Vincent is [ ] who has an office there and he has every reason to believe is legitimate. He stated that the person called Paul Fenton Burnet, who supposedly owns the bank in St. Vincent, and the person who had, or would, put up the fees, is the person [ ] claims is a Bureau agent. [ ] reiterated, as he had at least twice before, that as far as he could see and believed, [ ] was honest. [ ] stated that [ ] now was somewhat hysterical and had asked him to represent him, which [ ] of course indicated he would not do. I asked [ ] to keep us advised of any developments, but he stated he was not going to take any more calls from these people.

I told [ ] that I would check on Thursday and see if we could have an agent available to talk with him concerning this matter. [ ] told me that he was not now that concerned about talking to an agent since he had brought the matter to our attention and he felt he had fulfilled his obligation, therefore there was no hurry getting the agent to see him. He did intend, however, that we get someone to see him at some point.

Pursuant to two messages to call him which I received today (August 30) from [REDACTED] I returned the calls at approximately 3:30 this afternoon (August 30). [REDACTED] secretary indicated that he was unavailable, but when I identified myself she indicated that he had been waiting to hear from me and wanted to talk with me.

[REDACTED] inquired as to whether an agent was coming by to see him today (August 30) and I inquired as to whether today was a good day for him or not. He indicated that it was an awful day and tomorrow would be preferable. I asked him what his schedule was for tomorrow and found out that he has a deposition in the afternoon and that first thing in the morning would be best. I indicated that we would have a couple of agents come by and see him in the morning, and I expected they would be [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] We set it up specifically for 9:00 A.M. b6 b7C b7D

Without any questioning from me, [REDACTED] went on to say that the more he thinks about this the more bizarre it becomes. He thinks he may be the victim of the deal but can't see how he has any direct involvement in it. I did not comment on that in any respect.

We simply left it that if the time were to change when the agents were coming by to see him in the morning that I would get back to him.
